

HI SKULE NUZE

Kenneth Mason entered the third grade this week.

Last Monday evening the Good Fellowship and Women's clubs entertained the teachers in the H. S. gymnasium. A program, and dancing were the chief features of the evening.

Members of the Freshmen class were entertained by the Sophomores Friday evening. Dancing was the main event of the evening, the music being furnished by Miss Gnetch's symphonias.

A few of the teachers enjoyed a house party at the Lewis cottage over the last week-end.

The Central Drug Store contributed a "Rose of Jericho" plant to the General Science class. We appreciate their kindness very much.

The Grayling teachers were most enjoyably entertained at the lake by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Welch last Saturday afternoon and evening.

The G. H. S. Glee Club has just been organized under direction of Miss Gnetch.

President—Kristine Salling.

Vice-President—Ruth Johnson.

Sec. and Treas.—Eleanor Schumann.

Those students working on the State Debate are progressing rapidly, and interest is being shown in the question under consideration.

A new set of books, consisting of eight volumes, has been recently purchased for the school library.

Martha Peterson has entered the ninth grade.

The Lyceum Course is again under the auspices of the Senior Class. The first number will be given Nov. 2.

Watch for further announcements.

"Footishment."

We wonder what there is in Mr. Smith's appearance that makes him look so much like Guy Ball. Ask Sigurd Johnson.

The Tuesday Domestic Science class will meet on Thursday to make raisin pies. On account of the high price of raisins they will use prunes.

For Sale—Jello, cake, sugar, etc. Apply Farnham Matson & Co.

We, P. O. P. believe in branding certain H. S. students by names of songs which they represent.

"How ya goin' to keep 'em down on the farm."—Eddie Gierke.

"Down by the O-H-I-O."—Lueda Collens.

"Leave me with a smile."—Iva Prehn.

"Baby Blue Eyes."—Lillian Ziebell.

INSPECT SCHOOLS AND MOVIES

STATE DEPT. MAKING OFFICIAL INSPECTION.

The State Department of Public Safety is pushing the work of freeing every school house and motion picture theatre in Michigan from fire hazards which might endanger the lives of the occupants. This work was one of the most important duties assigned the Department by the last Legislature in the development of the policy of Governor Greenback to consolidate inspections and similar activities as much as possible to reduce the number of inspectors sent out through the State.

District inspectors and uniformed men of the State Police are now engaged in the regular fall inspection of schools and movie theatres. A representative of the Department will personally visit every school and movie house in the State, having with him data covering the 1921 inspections from which he will make a comparison to see that all improvements recommended at the time of the last inspection have been made and that unnecessary accumulation of litter about the building since that time has been removed.

It is stated that reports show most of the schools and movies were in good condition at the time of the last inspection. There were, of course, it is explained, some instances where the heads of schools became negligent in the matter of protecting their pupils from the dangers of fire and where the manager of a picture theatre failed to comply with the orders of the Department.

The inspections of the school buildings will have to do with the condition of waste accumulation in the cellars, how the floors are fastened, construction of stairways, location of fire escapes, and the condition of electrical alarm equipment and fire fighting equipment. A great deal of attention is paid to the fire drills in the schools. Every school is required by law to have a system of fire drills and alarm that meet the requirements. Surprises will be required by the inspectors in the schools at odd times to keep the pupils posted on this prevention of accident and possible death resulting from a fire. Fire alarms are now installed in some schools which are of such construction that the exercise that the alarm did not work cannot be given. An automatic arrangement causes the alarm to ring when it is out of order, notifying school attendants of the need of attention. The State law with regard to fire drills in school says:

"It shall be the duty of the State Fire Marshal and Deputy Assistant Fire Marshal to require teachers of public and private schools and educational institutions to have one fire drill each month and to keep all doors and exits unlocked during school hours, and it shall be the duty of such teachers to comply with these requirements."

Failure to comply with this section of the law is made a misdemeanor punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

STATE INSTITUTE ASSOCIATION.

To Teachers and Educational Workers
The first meeting of the Michigan State Teachers' Association in sections will be held as follows:

District No. 1—Detroit, November, 2-3.

District No. 2—Saginaw, October, 30-31.

District No. 3—Jackson, October, 30-31.

District No. 4—Grand Rapids, October, 28-29.

District No. 5—Cadillac, October, 28-29.

District No. 6—Cheboygan, November, 2-3.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction hereby announces teachers' institutes for the counties affiliated with each of these sections to be held at the same time and place and in connection with the above meetings.

School boards are requested to close schools. Teachers are invited to their regular salary while in attendance at this state institute. They may secure certificates of attendance when they enroll.

The Institute Association will have general sessions for everybody and in addition special section meetings. Some very strong men have been secured for these meetings, among them: A. S. Bonser of Columbia University; Dr. Ernest Horn of the University of Iowa; Dr. Alexander James Inglis of Harvard University; and Dr. Ernest H. Lindley, Chancellor of the University of Kansas.

So far as possible the same speakers will be used at most of the meetings. A large attendance is urged. Ample accommodations will be provided for everyone. Address queries or communications and send your enrollment fee of two dollars to Secretary E. T. Cameron, 500 Prudden Bldg., Lansing.

Faithfully yours,

COBR SCHOOL NOTES.

Maple Forest.

The children received their report cards Monday and seemed pleased with them.

Miss Jean Anderson is a new pupil in our kindergarten department.

Victor Armstrong was neither absent nor tardy during the month of September.

We miss our old very much. We can't help but wonder where the clapper has gone.

Mr. Smith is the owner of a beautiful new car. It is a very nice one and will be a great help to him in his business.

TEACHERS RECEPTION.

The teachers of the Grayling schools were honored Monday night by being given a reception by the ladies of the Good Fellowship club and the Women's club. A cordial invitation had been extended the public to attend. It was held in the school gymnasium.

The place was prettily trimmed with colored oak leaves and branches. The customary practice of standing in a receiving line was abandoned and, instead, groups of the teachers were escorted among the guests where introductions were made, thus giving the ceremonies a less formal air, and a warmer home-like nature.

A very interesting and pleasing program was presented, and not the least of these were several selections by the High School orchestra. This organization is under the direction of Miss Gnetch, and is making rapid progress.

After an opening number by the orchestra, Donald Gothro, little son of Dr. and Mrs. Herb Gothro, sang very sweetly a song entitled "Drowsy Head." He responded to a generous applause by singing "Ma." Donald is but four years of age and seems to be possessed of unusual singing ability. This was his first appearance in public and he is sure his singing is going to be in great demand in future affairs in Grayling. He was accompanied by Miss Gnetch.

A pretty Japanese song by Mrs. Milnes was well received and very pleasing, just as her music always is. Mrs. B. E. Smith accompanied.

Miss Jane Keyport, little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Keyport gave one of her graceful solo dances and deserved the applause she received. Music was furnished by the orchestra.

"Garland of Old Fashioned Roses" was sung by Marie Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holger Schmidt. Miss Marie has an unusually sweet voice. She responded with an encore. During her singing she carried in her hand a basket of roses. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. G. N. Olson.

Misses Margrethe and Ella Hanson, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hanson, never disappoint an audience whenever they appear upon a program. Dressed in ballet costumes they gave a fancy dance duet. It was exceedingly pretty and cleverly done.

Miss Kathryn Clark played a violin solo entitled "An Old Fashioned Waltz" by W. H. Soule. She received a prolonged applause and was forced to respond with an encore, much to the pleasure of the audience. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. N. Olson.

The attendance was good and the whole evening a pleasing and successful one. A refreshment booth in one corner of the big gym added to the pleasure of the evening. Those who wished to do so remained and enjoyed visiting and dancing. Music was furnished by the school orchestra.

JOWELS AND TOOTHBRUSHES TO BRING CHIVALRIC RANK.

"Knights of the Bath!" If that isn't their official title it ought to be, for they win their spurs by royal achievements with soap and towels and toothbrushes. At the dinner table, too, they exercise the knightly virtues of wisdom and self-control, for teaching says that health chivalry means eating wise and brave about coffee and pickles and too much candy. And yet like the Round Table Knights they are vowed to be honorable and pure and helpful every day.

Who are they? Why, Modern Health Crusaders, enrolled in a state wide health crusade under the auspices of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. The State Department of Health and Public Instruction have lent their assistance to the project and call it practical hygiene and habit formation through the enlisting of interest and it's all pure joy to Skinn and his crew.

Of course it's serious, too, in a way. A fellow has to do all sorts of things: lean his nails every day, and keep his pencil out of his mouth, and use his handkerchief when he sneezes, and all the rest of the stuff ma's always been dinging about. But it's different once you call it a Crusade.

You have a roll of honor and badge and pins, and after you've done the health chores for your service one enough, they knight you with a valiant sword, and say, "Rise, Sir Knight," and all, just the way it is in King Arthur.

Already more than seven thousand of these loyal servants of health have been enrolled in the state. In many counties, the county nurse is leader of the Crusade, sometimes interested teachers introduce it directly into their rooms. Frequently a woman's club sponsors it. As the project was largely limited to city systems last year, the Tuberculosis Association is now making a special effort to extend the Crusade to rural schools.

GOVERNMENT OFFERS NEW 4% BABY BOND.

Ten million dollars worth of new U. S. Treasury Certificates dated September 30th are now in the hands of postmasters in the Seventh Federal Reserve District. These certificates are issued in denominations of $5, $10, and $1,000 and are offered to the public on a discount basis for $90.50, $82.00 and $820 respectively. Each certificate is protected against all forms of loss by registration and money invested in them increases about 22 per cent in five years.

Secretary Mellon of the Treasury Department expects that this new issue of Baby Bonds will prove popular with millions of small savings and with mothers of small children who hope to build up a large array of regular monthly buyers. The new certificates differ from other government securities in that the owner may demand the return of his investment at any time.

Postmasters are authorized to accept investments ranging from $50.50 to $1,000 from any individual firm or corporation. Subscriptions also may be sent direct to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

What Roosevelt Thought.

"If you are going to do anything for the average man, you have got to start before he is a man. The chance of success lies in working with the boy, not the man."

My Reasons.

For the reasons, expressed above I have accepted the invitation by the County Commissioner of Schools, to act as supervisor of the teaching of agriculture by the teachers of Crawford County.

I do this without extra pay, and entirely for the agricultural advancement of the county.

If schools are to prepare for life, then it is entirely reasonable that pupils from farm home, and in villages supported by farms, as nearly all are in Crawford County, should, in school, be systematically and carefully taught the fundamental principles of agriculture.

It is entirely right that pupils in large village schools, like Grayling, Gaylord, West Branch, and in larger places, be taught the fundamental principles of the great basic industry, agriculture.

It is just as right that they be taught the principles of agriculture as that they be taught the principles of chemistry and physics.

These young people are as likely to be farmers as they are to be chemists or to hold positions requiring special knowledge of physics.

And, if farmers or not, it is fully as fitting that all have a clear, comprehensive understanding of the processes of maintaining soil fertility, rotation of crops, selection of seed, improvement of stock, and the other mighty factors in the stupendous task of feeding the human race, as it is that they put years on study of the geography or arithmetic that they seldom use.

Begin With Them Young.

If all boys and girls are carefully taught the principles of agriculture for a few years, when these same children come to have care of farms, which time soon comes, they will just as naturally expect to spray the fruit trees just as naturally treat seed potatoes before planting, and spray with Bordeaux mixture while growing; they will just as naturally practice a proper rotation of crops and include legumes in that rotation; they will just as naturally conserve the fertilizers of the farm and increase its fertility while cropping it; they will just as naturally cull their poultry and their cattle, and refuse time, labor, and hard-earned feeds to inferior stock; they will just as naturally beautify the farm home, and plan all its operations, indoors and out, for highest efficiency; they will just as naturally so conduct the farm that it will yield an abundant living, full of development, and rich in food for the spiritual and social nature of those dependent on it, as they will go about any tasks of the day.

God speed such a day here. To this task I dedicate my best efforts, and to this task I call the unselfish, unswerving devotion of parents, teachers and school officers.

COMING.

FINDS PATTON NOT GUILTY.

For the same charge three Grand Rapid young men—Vern Hyde, Clauence Crane and Vern Konkle, each pleaded guilty and each was sentenced to pay fine of $100 and $35 court costs. These young men were arrested in July while attempting to enter the military grounds during the National guard encampment, with a quantity of whiskey. They were apprehended by state military police as they came into the camp.
Several jugs and bottles of whiskey were found in their car. General Earl R. Stewart had been notified the day previous to be on the lookout for two Cole-8 cars from Grand Rapids which had left the latter place with loads of booze, and were headed for the Guard camp. Only one of these cars appeared and the men were at once placed under arrest. The fines were paid and the parties returned the following day to Grand Rapids.
The case of William Mosher, violation of the Prohibition law, was continued to the next term of court.

Three divorce cases appearing on the calendar were dismissed. One other case was disposed of—The Alpena Battery Service corporation vs.
Seeley Wakeley, in which the plaintiffs were given a judgment.

Patton Case.
The court had a difficult time to obtain a jury for the case against Henry Patton, charged with assault with intent to kill. The original panel was exhausted and several talismen drawn before the jury was complete.
The case is one in which Patton is charged with having shot Archie Mc-Carney, while engaged in a family quarrel at the home of the former in Frederic township. This occurred on the 12th of July last; Patton evaded the police officers for about two weeks after which he gave himself up.

It appears that Mrs. David Short, mother-in-law of Patton, according to the testimony, engaged in a quarrel with Patton, the former accusing her of telling slanderous things about him, and advised her to leave his name out of future conversations.
Bitter language was indulged in until finally Patton is alleged to have slapped his mother-in-law after which a pitch-battle began.

At about this time McCarney, and Mr. Short, husband of Mrs. Short, were in front of the house in an auto.
They heard the racket in the house and went inside. McCarney claims, to stop it and to get Mrs. Short to leave.
McCarney claimed that as he came upon the porch he saw Patton strike
Mrs. Short in the forehead with a revolver. McCarney says that at that time Patton's father, who was present had told of Mrs. Short with one hand and a revolver in the other and threatened to kill her.

He rushed in he says, and pushed the two apart, and rushed Mrs. Short out of the house. At this time, he says, Patton seized him with a revolver and demanded that he leave the house.
He says that he was doing so he told Patton to lower his gun and come out into the road and he would whip both him and his father. At about that time, he says, Patton shot two times at him but missed. At that he picked up an axe and threw it at him but also missed. Then Patton fired again, the bullet passing through his right side and came out of his back.
This story is disclaimed by Patton who says that McCarney entered the house with the axe and threw it at him and he (Patton) fired one shot intending to scare him away. Then McCarney stepped out of the door and re-entered with the blade of a scythe, at which time he shot again, the bullet entering McCarney's right side and coming out of his back.

The latter then left and got into his auto and, with Mr. and Mrs. Short, started for Frederic, and later was taken to Mercy hospital at Grayling. He recovered from his wound and made complaint against Patton, who was later arrested, after evading the officers for about two weeks, he finally gave himself up. The council for Patton are basing their defense upon the theory of self-defense.

The trial started Tuesday afternoon and closed with the arguments of the attorneys early this Thursday afternoon. The jury, after being out a brief time, returned with verdict of not guilty.

HOW BETTER THAN PILLS?

The question has been asked in what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is, they are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then, they not only move the bowels but improves the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

More Business in Government Does Make A Difference

The Republican party came into power March, 1921, and immediately set about to put more business in Government.

The Congress speedily enacted the law creating the Budget Bureau and clothed it with power to sys-tematize and supervise public expenditures. Executive departments and agencies worked together to put into effect business methods and practices. Expenses were reduced, lost motion cut out, useless employees dropped, and the whole governmental machinery overhauled and speeded up.

Executives and the Congress, both Republican, worked together in support of policies which were helpful, National and constructive. They emphasized public and national welfare as opposed to destructive policies which appeal only to class or sectional interests.

The sum total of these policies, business methods and economics has been a return toward normal business conditions. Business has been reassured. Markets have been stabilized. Liberty bonds have advanced 15 per cent. and are selling at par and above. Interest rates in the Federal Reserve system have been lowered from 7 1/2 to 4 1/2 per cent. Credit for all legiti-mate needs is obtainable. Agriculture has been revived. The problem of unemployment no longer exists except in industries affected by strikes.

It Really Makes A Difference at the End of the Year Which Party Has Been in Power

The continuance of control of both branches of the Government by the Republican party is necessary that there may be co-operation between these branches for the furtherance of the constructive business program that has been begun and upon the completion of which the welfare of the American people depend.

Feed them RAT-NIP —and Not a Rat Can Escape

If there are rats about your premises why not let us send you a tube of the new and remarkably effective discovery, Rat-Nip? The great trouble with rat poisons is to get all rats to eat them. Rat-Nip is just as attractive to rats as Catnip is to cats and they all succumb to it, even the wily, old fellows. One or two Rat-Nip feasts and every rat will positively be exterminated from house, store, barn, stable or garage. Not one will remain.

Rat-Nip is safe, easy and clean to handle. It is put up in neat, collapsible, metal tubes and can be readily squeezed out, without coming in contact with the hands or anything else. One tube goes a long way. Price 30 cents.

Come in and look over our line of goods. We hope to have the pleasure of seeing you soon.

Farmers of Western Canada Rejoice at Harvest

Largest Crop in the History of the Prairie Provinces May Be Considered Assured

Reports of Western Canada's wheat crop, which may be considered fairly accurate, as they are made at the end of the season, when the crop is fully harvested, would indicate a yield of between 350,000,000 and 370,000,000 bushels from a total acreage of 21,471,000. This is the greatest yield in the history of the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. This immense yield has only been harvested through the combined energies of all public bodies—railways and governments. It required the assistance, outside of that locally employed, of upward of 40,000 men. These were brought into the country from the East, the West and the South, by trainloads, and rushed forward at express speed, to be placed in the different districts, under the direction of officials who were kept advised daily, by wire, of the needs.

As a result of this combined effort the largest wheat crop in the history of the West was successfully harvested. The threshing reports show that almost universally, in every section of the country, the grain graded high. In very few places did rain interfere with threshing. The province of Manitoba was the first to complete threshing, very few fields being left at the time of writing.

Portions of Saskatchewan that had suffered from drought for the past two or three years reaped a crop that largely made up for past disappointments. In Alberta there was a strange condition. In the central district, always noted for its heavy yields, there was considerable of a falling off. Instead of the 35 and 40 bushel yields the average ran from 10 to 12, while in southern portions, where drought had affected the country for some time past, there were exceptionally high yields.

Reports of individual yields in different portions of the three provinces lead to the impression, that when threshing returns are in there will be found to have been a much better crop than at present seems possible. Some of these returns give individual farmers as getting as high as 45 bushels others 35 and so on, while in some districts, where in early August not more than 8 or 10 bushels might be looked for, 15 and 18 bushels are recorded. The improvement having been brought about by rains that worked marvels in the appearance of the crop. And then, too, instead of the head carrying four rows, most of them carried six rows, and filled to the top, which, to those who know, means at least fifty per cent more.

The eye crop of all Western Canada is exceptionally good; the oats generally good and barley fair.

The weather at the time of writing is threatening for a rainy spell, which may interfere with threshing, and prolong it somewhat.

Most of the newcomers from the States have excellent crops. During August, the trains to Western Canada carried hundreds of capitalists and others interested in Western Canadian land, going up to take care of the crop that they had arranged to have put in on the land they owned. Very few of them will be disappointed. Advertisement.

Important to All Women. Readers of This Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and suggest it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and maybe despondent; it makes any one so.

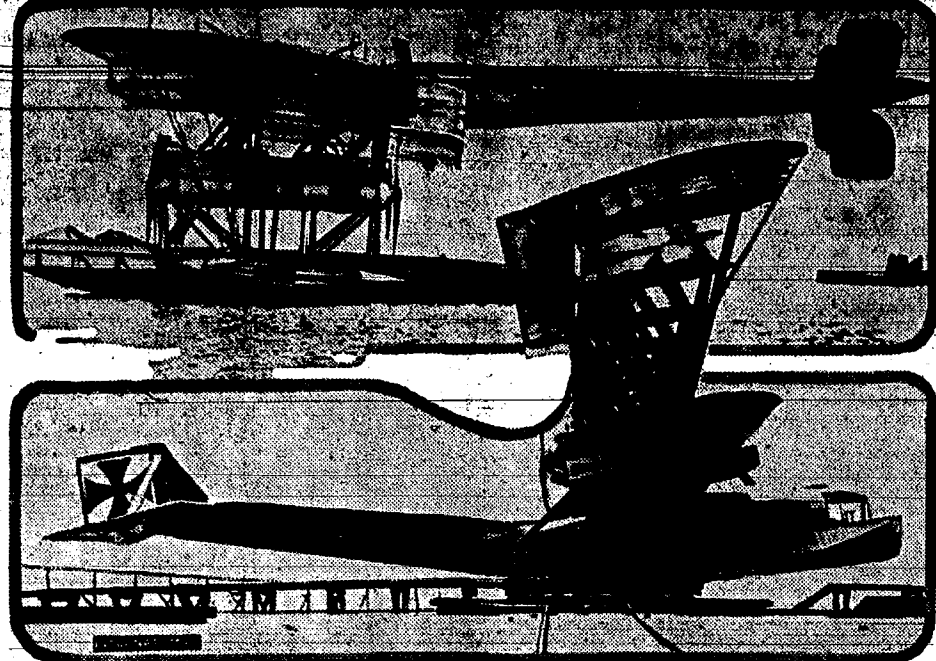

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by parcel post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores. Advertisement.

THE OBSTACLE

By MYRA A. WINGATE

(Copyright by Myra A. Wingate, 1917.)

Drawing in his breath with the labored effort of a runner finishing a race, Kenneth concluded the ancient story of Moses, who, descending the mountain with the tables of stone upon which were graven the Ten Commandments, found his people worshipping the golden calf. The boy laid the book of children's stories upon the grass and fell back exhausted.

"How do you suppose he got down the mountain with two stone tables?" marveled Katherine. "The legs must have got in his way awfully."

"He was strong," returned Kenneth, thoughtfully. "I tell you, I bet they were like Aunt Mary's marble-topped table—not stone all over. I could lug that down the mountain," he added.

"Maybe you could bring it down, but how would you get it up?" she asked skeptically.

"Well, you could help me," he conceded.

On the veranda Mr. Tallant tried to be adviser and sympathetic friend, while he longed to be the true lover that he was. The longing which occasionally crept into his voice he sternly repressed.

"I'm afraid of the money," Christine was saying vigorously. "I want the twins to be useful people, with something to do and the will to do it—not mere spenders."

To spend Aunt Mary's fortune wisely was proving a greater problem to the girl than to make the small resources left by her parents, with her own salary, cover their needs.

"Money is a responsibility," agreed the young man absently. "It can open avenues of usefulness, or it can be an obstacle to—"

He did not finish the sentence but continued to look dreamily at the girl's attractive profile.

There was amusement, exasperation, and a hint of wistfulness in Christine's glance.

"Obstacles, yes! And each must learn to overcome his own," she answered, adding with a glance behind her at Aunt Mary's pillared portico, "I haven't dared to change our way of living much since we came here. I'm afraid Keth and Kath will learn to think too much of money."

"A great obstacle," murmured Tallant.

Christine turned upon him fiercely. "Can't you say anything else?" she demanded. "It's almost as jolly as entertaining a parrot."

"You are quite right," he said. "I'd better go now, and call some other day when I've acquired a new idea."

He was pale and grave. Their friendship of long standing seemed about to be wrecked upon the great obstacle. He could never ask a girl with a fortune of half a million to marry a country minister.

"Don't be a goose," said Christine. A piercing shriek stifled the hearing laughter that followed.

Christine crossed the lawn in long bounds, Christine racing beside him. Across the field and up the height they sped, to the spot where Katherine stood wringing her hands over Kenneth, whose white blouse was reddening with terrifying rapidity.

They worked swiftly, kneeling among the ruins of Aunt Mary's marble-topped table, to stanch the flow of blood and to reassure the frightened children.

Later the little sister crouched outside the door waiting until the doctor came out, followed by Tallant and Christine. She listened to crisp instructions and words of encouragement before she pushed a packet of papers into Christine's hand.

"There was a little hole-hole in the top of Aunt Mary's table under the stone," she explained. "Keth fell and the stone broke an' cut him. The letters were in the little hole."

Christine stared, fascinated, at the pencilled word "WILL" on the outside of the package.

"Would it be right to look at it?" she asked Tallant.

"Surely," he answered.

The words that at first blurred, resolved themselves into Aunt Mary's instructions that of her large fortune $50,000 should go, in equal shares, to her grand-nieces, Christine and Katherine, and her grand-nephew, Kenneth. The rest was apportioned among certain charities.

"Fifty thousand dollars is not an obstacle," remarked Christine, with dancing eyes.

"It may be as bad as five hundred thousand," returned Tallant stubbornly.

Mere human patience gave way. Christine stamped her foot.

"Israel Putnam Tallant, divide fifty thousand by three! Reckon the interest on it at six per cent! Remember, that I have a ten-year-old brother and sister to bring up! Do you think a woman has no pride? Oh, I've no patience! This is the end."

The gloom vanished from Israel Putnam Tallant's face. He took one long step and caught her in his arms. "I need you, Keth, Kath and cash notwithstanding," he announced.

A broken murmuring from the next room hushed their voices.

"What did he say, nurse?" asked Christine, tiptoeing in.

"He says," returned the nurse with a puzzled look, "that he doesn't believe there were legs on Moses' tables. Don't be alarmed, Miss Chase. He's just coming out of the ether."

Remarkable Recovery Case in Serious Kidney Case.

This letter, from George Roberts of Church street, Chicago, England, sounds almost unbelievable, yet every word is true and was signed before a notary.

For eleven years I suffered acute pain and sickness. I consulted several prominent doctors and each one had a different opinion. I was told I was suffering from gall stones. My doctors and the specialist at the Royal Infirmary, Chester, told me they were not pores and no medicine in the world would move them, so there remained nothing for it but an operation. When my wife heard this she told me to get Dodd's Kidney Pills, as I had been cured when she suffered from black, stinging kidney stones. It is now nineteen years since my wife felt any symptoms of these troubles. I purchased a quantity of Dodd's Kidney Pills and took them according to directions. This is seven years ago and I have had no return of the trouble.

It was a surprise for all the doctors. They had to admit the fact as I was unable to see the X-ray several times, and for a while they did not know what to make of it, until they found they had disappeared altogether. They asked me what I had been doing and were not pleased when I told them Dodd's Kidney Pills. I am enjoying the best of health and have not suffered with rheumatism as well as pain in the back as I was cured by taking Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I declare the above statement to be true." Declared at St. Paul, Minn., in the County of St. Paul this fourth day of March, 1922, A. W. Smith, a Commissioner of the State of Minnesota.

Sarcasm Is Not Wit

Native wit loses nothing when it is tempered by courtesy. A smart girl whose speech has never been governed by restraint is liable to degenerate into that ancient terror, the "blatant," whose every comment is like biting acid. There are rare occasions when sarcasm is as useful as a sun-goggles, but who wants to be operated on unnecessarily? Mrs. O'Byrne could use her tongue with telling effect—is there an Irish woman who cannot—but her cutting phrases were reserved for the cruel and the false. There, in Douglas Golding's graphic phrasing, is a portrait of the home-clever, gentlemanly who never lack their weapon of wit unfairly and disconcertingly.

Birds Usually Fly Low. Though some astronomers have on unusually clear nights seen birds cross between their telescopes and the moon's disk, and have estimated their elevation as high as two miles, it is unusual for birds to migrate at altitudes greater than 5,000 feet, as a rule. They tend to keep below lowest clouds. This is desirable because the higher they go the colder it gets and the harder it is for them to breathe. Aviators report having encountered birds above the 5,000-foot altitude. High-flying birds are geese, cranes, and swallows. Low-flying birds are swallows and other common varieties. When weather is particularly clear, it is cloudy, all birds fly low.

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE LAST GOLDEN ROD

"Hello, Mr. Wind," said Miss Golden Rod. "I am the last Golden Rod flower of the season, I think."

"I believe you are," said Mr. Wind. "It is very late in the fall for any of the members of your family to be about. Very, very late."

"But, it is nice to see you. I am ever so fond of your family, Golden Rod."

"I think you're one of the nicest of all the nice flower families."

"How kind you are, Mr. Wind, and I can tell you, I do appreciate your kind words."

"Mr. Wind means what he says."

"I've been hearing of the Fleur-de-lis which is the national flower of France," said Mr. Wind. "You know it is the Iris flower."

"It used to be called Fleur-de-Louis, meaning the flower of Louis, who was one of their rulers in the olden days. A fleur is the same as a flower—it is the French word for flower."

"There is quite a story about it, and as I know you like to hear about flowers, I will tell you this story."

"Do," said Miss Golden Rod.

"Iris," said Mr. Wind, "was a messenger of the old Greek gods. They had a birthday party to which all the flowers were invited, and three sisters came—beautifully gowned—in purple, yellow and red. Their colors were the colors of the rainbow, and the rainbow was dedicated to Iris."

"Oh yes, there are many, many stories of Iris! The flower has been much used in Egyptian carvings, and, too, it has been used for perfumes and oils. It is said that a powder made from its roots was part of a mixture used for broken bones."

"And another story about it is that it was supposed to be good for bites from snakes."

"But, though the Iris or Fleur-de-lis has so many stories about her, I am fonder of our own lovely Golden Rod."

"How happy that makes me," said Miss Golden Rod.

"I am very devoted to the country here. That is why I cannot bear to leave."

"I should have gone some time ago, but I just couldn't go. My flower trunk was packed and ready to go to the Flower Expressman who would scatter the seeds about, but I couldn't bear to leave, as I told you."

"But, Mr. Wind, you are laughing. Pray tell me why you are laughing? Have I said anything funny?"

"No," said Mr. Wind. "I was laughing about something funny that I heard today."

"Someone said how helpful I was in drying the clothes that were out on the line."

"Yes," said Mr. Wind. "The Wind is very helpful. He is a fine dry wind, and he is just making the clothes dry in no time at all. He is such a help."

"Then someone else said: 'I really don't know what I would do if it weren't for the Wind—to help me with my washing. He doesn't exactly help with the washing itself, but the washing is finished much sooner because he helps with the drying.'"

"Oh, I really do not know what I would do without Mr. Wind. I do not know at all."

"And then someone else said: 'I can't see how Mr. Wind is so much of a help in the washing and drying. He hasn't any hands. How can he help wash and dry clothes?'"

"Well, I laughed then and I laugh now to think of myself with hands. Fancy the wind blowing about with a pair of hands to look after."

"It is so ridiculous. It did make me laugh."

"But the first two who had spoken explained to the third person—who very evidently knew absolutely nothing about washing and drying—what a help was in blowing and drying without hands. And now I must be about my work, but how glad I am to have seen you again, dear, bright Miss Golden Rod."

And Miss Golden Rod smiled brightly and happily.

The Last in the Deck. "I understand he's been married and divorced three times."

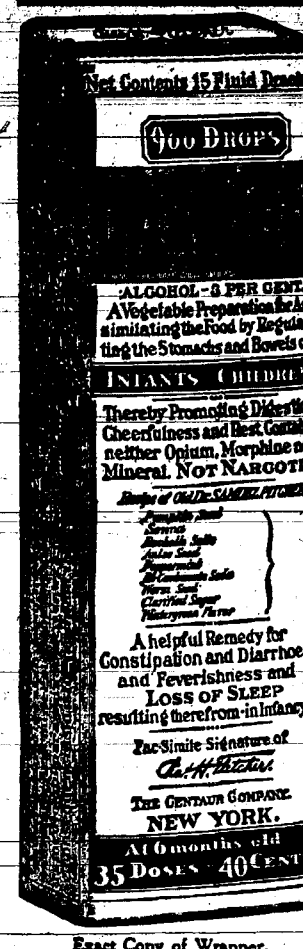

"Yes, and I'm told he's now trying to draw the fourth queen."

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this: It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

FOUND OUT WHAT WAS WRONG. Physician Might at Least Take Comfort in Fact That His Subconscious Mind Was Right.

Have you ever done a piece of work, conscious at the time that something was vitally wrong with it, but unable to figure out the defect until after the job was finished?

The "feeling that something is wrong" floats up vaporlike from the subconscious mind, one of every person's two brains.

A Toronto doctor told evenings for two winters building in his cellar an eighteen-foot motorboat for Muskoka lakes. At that time he was conscious that something was wrong, but could not figure it out, though he pondered in detail everything from engine to paint.

When it came time to take the boat to the freight train he abruptly learned what had bothered his subconscious brain: There was no way of getting the boat out of the cellar except by tearing a big hole in the foundations of the house and digging a deep opening to the outside.

Possibly Taking No Chances. Two tired men—the sort of men who are always tired—were talking about the forthcoming election in their town, and discussing the rival candidates.

"I'm not so sure of that," replied the other. "But what makes you think that?"

"Why, did you notice how heartily he shook hands with me?"

"Yes, I did," replied his friend.

"He wasn't content with one hand, he grabbed both. He's a good fellow, he is."

The other looked at him thoughtfully for a moment. Then he said: "Yes, and he's very proud of his gold watch."

Good Portable Lock. A portable door and window lock that can be carried in the pocket and applied anywhere without nails or screws has recently been invented by B. N. Wickwire of Carbondale, Pa.

It consists of a wedge that is placed between the door and the door jamb. The wedge carries a series of the teeth that are brought lightly into contact with the wood by pressure upon a lever.

If anyone attempts to open the door the movement wedges the lock into the jamb and the teeth grip so firmly that the entire door frame must be torn away, the inventor declares, before the lock can be forced.

The Studebaker Light-Six Roadster and Coupe-Roadster were primarily built for business use. In meeting the urgent demands of business, they naturally have fulfilled the needs of the small family.

Each is built for hard usage, day in and day out. And as they are completely Studebaker built—you know they will stand up under hard going.

The bodies are attractive, roomy and thoroughly comfortable for all-day travel. Ample luggage space is provided under the rear decks.

There's an internal hot-spot to reduce gasoline consumption to a minimum. Valves are inclined at a 20 degree angle to give a new measure of power, greater flexibility and better acceleration. Crank shaft and connecting rods are machined on all surfaces, thus eliminating vibration and insuring longer life to the motor.

Studebaker low prices are made possible by great volume and complete manufacture. Studebaker quality is traditional.

The Studebaker Light-Six Coupe-Roadster seats two passengers; has side coach lamps; rain view and windshield wiper; eight-day clock.

The three-passenger Roadster has cowl lights; storm curtains opening with the doors; large plate glass window in rear curtain, inside and outside door handles.

Both models are upholstered in genuine leather; have ample space under the rear deck for luggage; ignition and thief-proof transmission locks, and cowl ventilator.

HAGGAGE PROTECTED AGAINST FIRE AND THEFT.

At this season of the year many young people start away to school. They are outfitted with new things, bags, trunks, etc., that if they have to be replaced would cost several hundred dollars, if entirely destroyed by fire, railroad accident or theft. Many fires occur in schools and boarding houses and accidents while enroute. You can fully protect yourself against such losses at the small cost of $1 per $100 insurance for one year. The same rate applies for people traveling generally. Palmer Fire Insurance Agency. (AVALANCHE Office.)

TURKEY UNABLE TO DIVIDE ALLIES

KEMALISTS LESS CONFIDENT AFTER FAILURE OF PLANS AT PARLEY.

DEMANDS TO ANGORA ASSEMBLY

Mudania Conference Adjourned Pending Action By Turkey Government; Troops Remain Inactive.

Mudania—There was distinctly less confidence in the Kemalists here, when it became thoroughly understood that there is now complete unanimity among the Allies. The plans for dividing the Allies having failed, it was realized that Kemal-Pasha had the world arrayed against him.

The Greek delegates also came into line with the three Allied powers, Colonel Masakia informing General Harrington that Greece would conform to whatever measures the Allied generals recommend.

He also assured the commander-in-chief that in case of necessity, the whole Greek army in Thrace will rally to the support of Great Britain.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha keeps in continual touch with his delegates at Mudania over a long distance telephone line recently installed, 300 miles to Angora. Mustapha personally speaks with his chief several times daily, reporting to him on the progress of the negotiations and receiving instructions as to the exact procedure to be followed.

The Allied generals, Harrington, Mombelli and Charpy, returned to Constantinople where the Mudania conference was adjourned to permit the Kemalists to refer the Allied demands to the Angora assembly.

Turkish forces continued to occupy positions in the neutral zone on the Asiatic side of Constantinople, but so far as has been learned there were no further advances. The British landed additional forces to protect the railroad between Haidar Pasha and Kadi Keut.

LIQUOR RULED OFF OF SHIPS

Even Foreign Ships Must Enter 3-Mile Limit "Boozeless."

Washington—Shipping Board vessels in American ports Sunday were Sahara-dry. Complete compliance with Chairman Lasker's order, issued Oct. 7 to put into effect the Daugherty ruling barring liquor from American ships, was reported here.

American vessels now on the high seas bound for American ports will be de-alcoholized upon arrival in American waters. Foreign and American vessels now in foreign ports, however, have been granted a few days' grace by President Harding. They will not come under the ban until October 14. American vessels homeward bound after that date must be "dry"; foreign vessels sailing for the United States October 14 or later cannot enter the three-mile limit with liquor aboard.

Aged Milwaukee Doctor Declares That Disease Benefited Him.

Milwaukee, Wis.—To prolong your life, have tuberculosis. Such advice was offered Monday by Dr. J. W. Pettit, Ottawa, Illinois, vice president of the National Anti-Tuberculosis association, attending the Mississippi valley conference here.

Dr. Pettit is 75 years of age. Years ago he had tuberculosis.

"That's why I'm living so long," he said. "Any individual who contracts tuberculosis and leads the ordinary sort of life he must get well and continue to lead that life lives longer than he ordinarily would."

A REMARKABLE RECORD.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for solids, croup and whooping cough for almost half a century and has constantly grown in favor and popularity as its good qualities become better known. It is the standard remedy for these ailments in thousands of homes. The fact that it can always be depended upon and is safe and pleasant to take is another reason for its success.
